

Governor Speaks Favorably Of Net Income Tax Bill

HARRISBURG, Jan. 5 (AP)—Gov. Leader today indirectly endorsed the 2 per cent personal net income tax plan and described it as "a fairly decent type of tax."

"At this point it's a legislative project," he told his weekly news conference. "I would have no difficulty with my conscience to sign this bill."

At the same time the governor said it would be about Feb. 10 before 2,100 fourth class or generally the rural school districts will receive state aid checks due them since Oct. 31. He added he had "no idea" when 52 million owed First, Second and Third Class districts would be paid.

The governor at his news conference also:

Active Campaign

1. Said he will campaign up and down Pennsylvania this year on the basis of Republicans beating down what he termed "a decent humanitarian program."

2. Asserted Mercer County officials were "not above being politicians" in demanding State police reinforcements in the Westinghouse strike at Sharon.

3. Refused to discuss whether he favored Mayor Clark of Philadelphia, or Congressman William J. Green, Philadelphia Democratic chairman, for the party's senatorial nomination this year.

4. Blamed federal farm policies for sagging agriculture prices and a reduction in the number of family-sized farms.

5. Named Patrick Kerwin, chairman of the State Liquor Control Board, to his cabinet, the first time the holder of that post has ever served in the governor's official family.

To Suspend Board

6. Disclosed the staff of 18 attached to the State Board of Movie Censors will likely be suspended while the Legislature ponders the question of whether the board should be continued.

The governor spoke favorably of the personal net income tax after the House Rules Committee earlier in the day sent the 210 million dollar measure to the House floor. The House after a brief token session recessed until Jan. 16, when the Senate is also expected to return to Harrisburg.

On the question of taxes Leader expressed the sentiment previously voiced by Rep. Albert S. Readinger, House Democratic floor leader, that the income tax should not be put up for a vote in the House unless Republicans agree to it before hand.

"They (House Democrats) are not very much interested in setting up any more ducks for the Senate to knock down," Leader declared.

Not Anxious For Abuse

"They are perfectly willing to put themselves in a position to act in a cooperative spirit with the wishes of the Senate, but not terribly anxious to be further abused."

Leader said he believed the income tax measure is constitutional. He compared it to the corporate net income tax, which he said provides various rates of deductions under the federal law.

The Democratic net income tax plan calls for a levy on the net taxable income as determined by the federal income tax return filed by each individual. In effect it allows exemptions for dependents and deductions for such items as interest, medical expenses, losses and other taxes.

Westinghouse Turns Down Federal Plan

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 5 (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. today turned thumbs down on a Federal Mediation Service proposal for a three-man fact-finding board to seek a basis for settling a 12-week-old strike.

Instead, Robert D. Blasler, Westinghouse vice president in charge of industrial relations, suggested the federal agency conduct a secret ballot among the striking workers to see if they want to continue the walkout.

James B. Carey, president of the striking AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, told the mediation board yesterday the union would agree to a fact-finding board. He also said the IUE members would return to work if both sides agreed the board's decision should be binding.

Blasler, following a day of conferences with other company officials in Pittsburgh, said:

"We believe our employees, whose job security is at stake, understand the issues better than any fact-finder who has no personal stake whatsoever in the resolution of these issues."

Marshals Deputies

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 5 (AP)—Sheriff Ralph Paul said tonight he will mobilize his deputies at or near the struck Columbus Westinghouse plant tomorrow in view of what he called numerous reports that another mass demonstration will be staged there.

Grace Kelly, Monoco Prince Engaged

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5 (AP)—Grace Kelly, blonde, beautiful and elegant star of the movies, today announced her betrothal to Prince Rainier of Monaco and said the wedding date will be soon after Easter.

Announcement of the engagement, which came after a courtship on the Riviera, was made jointly in Monte Carlo and by Miss Kelly's parents in Philadelphia.

Plans for the actual marriage were disclosed later in the day at a news conference in the Kelly home—an event which sent hundreds of newsmen and photographers, film cameramen and television technicians to the scene.

Father Comments

Grace's father, John B. Kelly, millionaire builder, gazed with a slight touch of dismay at the big crowd and said:

"It's a good thing that I built this house myself or there'd be no place for any of them."

The humor in his voice and in his demeanor generally showed plainly that it was to be a jolly occasion.

Both Miss Kelly and the prince, head of the tiny European principality and considered one of the most eligible bachelors in the world, were in high spirits, indeed.

Someone asked the star if she planned a large family.

She laughed, nodded a blithe yes. Then her mother, herself a decidedly attractive woman, cut in: "Why certainly she'll have a large family. I'm a grandmother and I like a lot of grandchildren."

Will Become Princess

The prince, all in blue except for his shoes, told the gathering that his bride-to-be will be known in Monaco as, "Her Serene Highness, Princess of Monaco."

Miss Kelly said the actual wedding date has not been set, nor has it been decided where the ceremony will be performed. She added it doubtless will be either in Philadelphia or Monaco.

"I am leaving for the West Coast this weekend," she went on, "to start work on one of two pictures I'm contracted for. Work on the first one is scheduled to start Jan. 17, and this assignment should take about two months."

She said she intended to take a leave of absence after completing the two pictures, but declined to say whether she would retire from the screen after her marriage.

"I plan to live in Monaco," she said. And that was all.

Future Plans

The couple go to New York tonight for the Monte Carlo Ball there. Miss Kelly then goes West, the prince to Florida, and just possibly back to Baltimore later for treatment of a sinus ailment.

He Is 32, She 26

The handsome prince, who is 32, and the 26-year-old daughter of a socially prominent Philadelphia family first met on the French Riviera while Grace was attending the Cannes Film Festival.

Although outwardly there is a vast void between their worlds, the two are not dissimilar in their likes and dislikes, in their religious life.

Both are Roman Catholics and neither has been married before, something that could have thrown a barrier in the path of their romance. Grace has said she was in love only once—in the pre-prince days—and that was with a Philadelphia boy now dead.

Flood Insurance, Other Aid Measures Given To Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Sen. Duff (R-Pa.) today joined in sponsoring nine bills to provide flood insurance and otherwise to assist flood victims.

The flood indemnity and reinsurance bill involves a 7-point program and is backed by President Eisenhower. The measure was introduced in the Senate today by Sen. Bush (R-Conn.) and in the House by Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.).

Other bills introduced today by Bush and cosponsored by Duff are:

1. To establish a northeastern United States watershed development and flood protection commission. The function of this bipartisan commission would be to coordinate the work of various government agencies and to stimulate action.

2. To increase the maximum term of disaster loans to business to 20 years and to provide a maximum interest rate of 3 per cent on such loans.

3. To remove the present 25 million dollar limit on the amount of outstanding catastrophe loans that may be issued by the small business administration. A House committee today approved a bill to raise this limit to 75 million dollars.

4. To provide for federal procurement of materials and supplies in major disaster areas.

5. To provide rent-free accommodations in federal-aid housing for needy victims of disasters.

6. To authorize a stockpile of demountable housing for disaster use.

7. To increase from $7,000 to $12,000 the limit on federal housing administration guaranteed loans for repair of flood-damaged homes.

8. To increase emergency relief highway funds from 10 million dollars to 30 million dollars for the 12 months ending June 30, 1956.

Rep. Walter Comments On Ike Message

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) commented today on one phase of President Eisenhower's message to Congress.

Walter, who is chairman of the House Immigration subcommittee and co-author of the present immigration law, said the President's recommendation that the number of immigrants permitted to enter this country be based on the 1950 instead of the 1920 census would increase the number of immigrants entering this country by 400,000 annually.

"I don't see how that many could be absorbed," he said. "At least, before taking any favorable action, I would like to see some evidence that they could be absorbed."

He disclosed at the same time a plan to speed the handling of private immigration bills: similar cases would be included in one bill. This, he said, could mean one bill involving 500 persons instead of 500 separate bills requiring individual action.

Balanced Budget Is Expected By Middle Of Year

By Douglas B. Cornell

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—President Eisenhower laid before Congress today a massive "program for the Republic" that contemplates a balanced budget, a token payment on the national debt, but no tax cuts now.

In language paralleling that of some leaders of both parties in Congress, Eisenhower spoke against lowering taxes at the expense of "fiscal integrity" and a balanced budget; against "going further into debt to give ourselves a tax cut at the expense of our children."

He forecast that government income will match outgo by midyear, and said he would propose a continued balance for the year following. Many Republicans and some Democrats applauded that, but the reaction to the message in general was the usual melange of plaudits and digs, keyed pretty much to party allegiances in this election-year Congress.

The presidential report encompassed recommendations—some new, some old, most of them advertised in advance—for a stepped-up, "many-sided attack" on the farm problem, for highway, school, housing, health and disaster relief programs.

Other Recommendations
It urged immigration legislation, aid for chronically depressed communities, labor law changes, an atom-powered commercial ship, water and power projects, equal pay for equal work for women, and an investigation to determine whether Negroes are being deprived of their right to vote and are being "subjected to unwarranted economic pressures."

With Russia's leaders following "tactics of retreat and zigzag" and still unwilling "to create the indispensable conditions for a secure and lasting peace," Eisenhower proposed "constant improvement" of America's defenses and those of the free world.

Fund Mounts Slowly In Seal Drive

ANOTHER $122 in settlements on Christmas Seal's mailed out by Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society were recorded yesterday, bringing total returns from the once-a-year fund campaign of the society to $10,236.53.

These settlements represented 72 letters of the 2,500 or more on which no returns have been made to bring the TB Society campaign up to a $12,500 budgeted antituberculosis and public health program.

All of the settlements were in response to a follow-up letter to the 2,500 people who had failed to make any settlement for the three sheets of seals they were mailed prior to Thanksgiving.

Overlooked In Rush

In most cases, the settlements were accompanied by just what the TB Society expected — they were overlooked in the rush of the holidays.

TB Society officers and directors look for continued returns during the next several days from people who did just that. The follow-up reminder, officers said, is expected to drive the fund required to operate during the coming year, especially with added flood area problems, up to the $12,500 goal.

VFW Post To Report On Programs

THE NEXT regular meeting of Thomas P. Lambert Post, VFW will be held at the post home at 8:15 p. m. Tuesday.

At the last regular meeting in December the proposed insurance plan of the $1000 death benefit was passed. This means that the entire membership paying 1956 dues will be covered by this policy.

The annual post dues now will be $5 instead of $4 in order to defray the cost of this insurance.

Sunday, Jan. 29 all will be the annual membership rally open to post and Home Assn. members.

A complete report on the VFW flood relief and welfare programs will be presented by Service Officer Howard Mount.

Congress Asked To Okay Wallpack Bend Dam And Reservoir

Authorization Requested By N. J. Legislator

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Congress was asked today to authorize construction of a $70,000,000 dam and reservoir on the Delaware River at Wallpack Bend, in Pike County, Pa.

The proposal, carried in legislation submitted by Congressman Thompson, (D-N.J.) is for Pennsylvania to take the lead in building the project with New Jersey—if it wishes—sharing the cost and the benefits.

Thompson, whose district includes Trenton and Mercer and Burlington Counties, explained that he introduced the bill at the request of New Jersey's Governor Meyner.

Approved By States

The New Jersey and Pennsylvania legislatures already have given their consent for the building of the dam, but congressional approval is needed as it involves two states as well as a river under federal supervision.

Preliminary plans for the Wallpack Bend dam and reservoir are for it to serve as a multi-purpose unit for water conservation, flood control and recreational development. Thompson's bill specifically provides that the waters stored by the dam be available for "domestic, commercial and industrial purposes."

The bill, however, would not bind either state to build the dam. However, Pennsylvania sought permission for such a structure as part of an agreement with New Jersey and New York on the use of the waters of the Delaware. This agreement was worked out a little more than a year ago with the guidance of the U. S. Supreme Court.

Plan Considered

So far, Pennsylvania officials have not yet worked out plans for financing the multi-million dollar project. Possibility, discussed at recent meeting between Pennsylvania and New Jersey representatives in Harrisburg, are for a bi-state financing authority, individual state authorities or for the use of Pennsylvania general state authority credit.

In addition, spokesmen from both states have indicated they want the federal government to help pay for the project on the basis of the benefits it would bring to the entire Delaware River basin area.

The Wallpack Bend dam would store river water in an area extending upstream from Bushkill about 25 miles north of Port Jervis, N. Y. This water would be captured in times of peak flow and released to serve the needs of the area's domestic and commercial users and to provide a steady flow in the lower reaches of the river during periods of drought.

Union Picket Stationed At Hughes Plant

AN ELECTRICAL workers' union set up a picket in front of Hughes Printing Co. yesterday.

As a result members of the International Typographical Union, Local 943 did not return to work in the plant after lunch, company officials said.

Edwin B. Hughes, company spokesman, said yesterday that he had no idea why the picket appeared at the plant. The printing company is in the process of constructing an addition to its building N. Crystal St. in East Stroudsburg.

But Hughes said there were no men working in the new portion of the building yesterday. The addition is nearly finished he said, but no wiring has been done on it and there were no electricians on the job yesterday.

States Reason

Earl Cochran, Easton, business agent for Local 267, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, which set up the picket, told reporters that the picketing was being done to protest hiring of a non-union contractor to install electrical wiring in the new addition.

The contractor, William Evans, Chipfield Drive, Stroudsburg, said last night that his firm is non-union but that none of his men were working in the new addition yesterday.

The bindery and press portions of the plant were not affected by the picketing yesterday, apparently. Work in those sections continued throughout the day and on night shifts.

Michael LaPenna, president of Local No. 350, Stroudsburg Printing Pressmen's and Assistants' Union, released the following telegram received by him from Thomas E. Dunwoody, president of the international to which the pressmen's local belongs:

"Must Honor Contract

"Have received information that the electricians union is picketing Hughes plant in your city and that some of their employees are failing to report to work. We have a contract with this company and all members of this international union must honor their contract and continue work as usual.

"Any member of this international union failing to work a regular schedule is subject to suspension from the international union. You and your fellow officers are hereby directed to see that our contract is lived up to by every member of our local union.

"If our members report to work and the company does not use their services it will be the responsibility of the company to keep them on the payroll in accordance with existing contract. Please keep this office advised of the situation."

LaPenna and Paul J. Dellaria, secretary-treasurer of the Stroudsburg local, said that members of the international's ruling in the matter.

At 10:30 last night the picket was still walking in front of the printing plant along the Crystal St. area.

First Animals Start Arriving At Farm Show

HARRISBURG, Jan. 5 (AP)—A parade of trucks loaded with all types of farm animals and birds moved into the state farm exhibition buildings today—early arrivals for the 40th annual Pennsylvania Farm Show beginning Monday.

Along with the first installment of some 2,000 head of livestock came sparkling new tractors and all manner of farm equipment to be displayed in commercial exhibits within the 14-acre building.

Placement of the animals and exhibits in their allocated position was under the supervision of John McCool, state farm show director. It is the first farm show McCool has supervised. He was named to the farm show post last year.

The first animal to arrive belonged to Luke Pasco, of Washington, Pa. The animal, a Holstein bull calf, was brought into the building at 4 a. m. today. It is one of nine Holsteins Pasco is exhibiting.

By late Sunday night an estimated six million dollars worth of livestock poultry and commercial exhibits will be in place for the Monday 8 a. m. opening of the five-day exposition.

Farm show officials look for crowds during the week totaling more than a half million visitors.

Parking Meter Receipts Dip To $44,088.27

PARKING meter receipts in Stroudsburg during 1955 amounted to $44,088.27—or $1,273.83 less than the total collected the preceding year.

In making the report, Borough Secretary Harold Snyder also disclosed that an average of $5.98 was collected from each of the 614 meters during each month of 1955.

However, Snyder emphasized that this is not quite a true picture because 73 new meters were put into operation late in the year.

$6.57 In 1954

The monthly collections from each meter averaged $6.57 in 1954, during which a total of $45,362.10 was received by the borough through the meters and 50-cent parking fines, the borough secretary said.

Snyder further reported that in 1953 a total of $34,976.44 was collected with an average monthly tally of $5.55 for each meter. In 1952, the borough collected $28,831.18, and received $26,982.90 in 1951. The average monthly receipts from each meter amounted to $6.99 in 1952, and to $6.54 in the previous year, Snyder added.

Importance Of Y To Region Should Produce Successful Membership Campaign

The Monroe County YMCA campaign for 500 adult members seems to be a very modest goal for a community the size of the Pocono Mountains region of Monroe County. So modest there should be little difficulty in swiftly signing up the hoped-for senior memberships.

Around the most complete, new YMCA building such an effort—once people really see the building and the facilities available—should be successful.

Flight Over The World Beyond Belief Makes Airport Development Here Essential

Now that most of the prognosticating for 1956 has been read, and most of those good New Year's resolutions have been forgotten, we would like to look into the future of the youngest and most dramatic form of transportation, and think about the next decade of wings over the world.

Certainly he would not be so brash as to predict the number of aircraft and the passengers they will carry in 1966, for with each succeeding year the predictions of the experts have been proven false and we do not carry an expert's license.

For example, the director general of the International Air Transport Association said recently that traffic on the world's scheduled airlines increased by one-fifth in 1955, when 70 million passengers were carried as compared with 59 million in 1954. Both totals, incidentally, were considerably in excess of the expectations.

Moreover, the IATA director adds, he believes some 85 million passengers will fly the lines in this present year of 1956, increasing to 100 million in 1957.

We will not bore you with tables of statistics that are before us as we write of the spreading wings of the world, but it is amazing to note the increases from 1937 when the statistical record began and more especially the tremendous growth of passenger flying since 1945.

So we shall not stick out our neck in the matter of what the records will show in another ten years, for by then we will have had the experience of the big new jets, flying twice as fast and with twice as many passengers as the biggest of the present conventional piston-engined aircraft.

Suffice it to say, that they will be beyond belief. Can anybody think of a better reason for prompt development of Pocono Mountains Airport?

Like everything else, abuses come into the best ideas and income tax deductions for political actions groups are a violation of the objectives of the permitted deduction. Such an organization as "The Fund for the Republic" is a political actions group and contributions to it should not have been tax-free. On the other hand, if contributions to "The Fund for the Republic" are tax-free, then the same rule should be applied to "For America."

Obviously a rule should be applied uniformly in a free society. When an Administration permits itself the whimsicality of favoritism, it engenders not only confusion but, in time, corruption.

It is not difficult to recognize that "For America" would be distasteful to the Eisenhower Administration. It is managed by such Republicans as General Robert E. Wood, formerly head of Sears, Roebuck, and a consistent conservative Republican; Clarence Manion, former Dean of the College of Law at Notre Dame University, who had been appointed to high office by President Eisenhower and then dismissed because of his rejection of the Eisenhower team theory that membership on the team involved subordination of conscience; and General Bonner Fellers, an heroic figure in war but a conservative in politics. All these men were Taft Republicans and therefore are personally disliked by the present Administration.

Apparently there is no similar dislike for Left-Wing or Middle-of-the-Road Foundations or Committees which also "educate" the American people politically. What is required is a rule and not a whim.

When the Treasury Department rejected the conservative organization, "For America," as an educational organization, entitled to income tax deductions for its contributions, it was within its rights because the Treasury alone is designated to make such decisions.

The list is long and complex and might well be studied by a Congressional Committee to determine whether legislation is not required defining more specifically on what terms income tax deductions should be granted.

The theory behind income tax deductions is that Americans should be encouraged to give to private charities, to hospitals, educational institutions, churches and for other good purposes. The donors may list such contributions and when contributions have been made to those organizations which have received authority from the Treasury, the donors may deduct the contributed amounts on their income tax returns. This is a procedure that is beneficial to the country, for otherwise, privately-financed institutions for the public welfare would have to close their doors.

After more than 20 years of attempted operations in this field, the foremost American universities are still the privately-endowed and supported ones and the same is true of hospitals and medical schools. As for churches, it is to be hoped that the day never comes in this country when they are financed out of taxes. They should always be financed out of funds provided by their members, but the income tax is making everything of this kind so hard.

Mr. Horace G. Heller,
Editor, The Daily Record
Stroudsburg, Pa.
Dear Mr. Heller:—

We take this opportunity to voice a hearty approval of Mr. W. A. Anderson's letter pointing out the trashiness; marring the beauty of our Monroe County country roads.

Stokes Mill Road has been suffering from the same sort of blight for a number of years. Even deer heads, skins and hoofs have been heaved over the bank running along The Brodheads Creek and since August 18th similar disposals of garbage have been made along areas of the road ravaged by the flood. This is certainly taking unfair advantage of a road when it's down—and out!

Mr. Anderson's idea of a penalty for defacing any public highway should receive most serious consideration. Enforcement of such a law would be advantageous to not only the beauty of the landscape but even to hard-headed businessmen who would profit by better word-of-mouth advertising.

Perhaps some civic group would wish to snark a concerted drive

Inside Washington

Knowland's Friends Think He's Getting 'Freeze-Out'

Washington—Friends of Senator William F. Knowland believe that his possible candidacy for the GOP presidential nomination is being subjected to a "freeze-out" by the White House—although not necessarily by President Eisenhower. Knowland wants to enter Republican primaries—but only if Mr. Eisenhower is not running for a second term.

However, administration leaders say it is all right for the President to delay an announcement on his plans—even as late as June or July, in the opinion of Harold E. Stassen, the President's adviser on disarmament.

This poses a serious dilemma to the Senate majority leader; if he files now to enter primaries, he might find himself opposing the President when the primaries are finally held and it is too late for him to withdraw. However, if he does not enter state races, he will fail to pick up delegations he thinks he can get, assuming there is a wide-open convention.

Knowland has apparently decided to throw his hat in the ring around Feb. 1.

Turnabout—The Air Force, which has placed thousands of recruiting posters in post offices all over the country, is currently in the process of returning the favor.

It has made available to the Post Office department 16,000 of its billboards on which the department is putting up some recruiting posters of its own.

The signs, in red, white and blue, will urge young men to join the postal service as a career. They point out that the starting salary is $70 a week, that there are increases up to $90 weekly, that postal employees get two-and-a-half to five weeks of paid vacation each year, as well as eight paid holidays annually, liberal sick leave and a generous retirement plan.

Air Traffic Row—An important row is developing in Washington over a new air control system to cope with airport traffic in the coming jet age. The battle centers about an automatic control plan that would guide high speed jets into a quick landing and thus make their commercial use economically feasible.

With more and more commercial lines ordering jets, leading companies feel that the present system is outmoded and they would lose money if the planes were stalled over airports for any length of time. The Air Force is giving commercial airlines its tacit support because of its far-flung operations with jet aircraft.

Aligned against these groups, however, are private pilots, who fly slower planes. If the precision proposals were adopted, they say, they would be given secondary consideration at airports. What gives their views weight is that private planes make up the bulk of the traffic at most airports in the United States.

Try and Stop Me —by Bennet Cerf

Jockey Eddie Arcaro maintains that in his youth, a horse suddenly ambled out of the paddock, up to the $10 window, and announced "I feel good today. I'll win in a romp. Ten tickets on me, Brother, please for the seventh race." He won in a walk, too, then trotted in to collect his swag. As he was shoving hundred-dollar bills under the saddle, he winked at the ticket seller. "I noticed a queer look on your face," said the horse, "when I placed my bet. You didn't think I could talk, did you?" "No," admitted the ticket seller, "and I didn't think you could win, either."

An old French farmer was walking through his pasture with an American tourist and his eager-beaver wife. "I notice," said she eagerly, "that some of your cows have horns and some haven't. Why is that?" "There are three cases in which they lack horns," explained the farmer carefully. "Some are born without them, some are dehorn'd, and some have their horns knocked off fighting." "And what about that different-looking one over in the corner?" persisted the wife. "Ah," murmured the peasant. "That is case number four. That is a horse."

Robert S. Allen Reports

No One Willing To Advise Harriman He's Out Of Race

Washington, January 5—Even Governor Averell Harriman's best friends won't tell him.

They are trying to get others to impart the doubtful news to him—that his campaign is a flop, and that he should save his time and effort and get out of the race.

But so far no one has been willing to undertake this painful chore. Various Harriman friends have been approached, and while all agreed he ought to be told the "harsh facts of life," none would do it. In each instance, the point was made that it is up to the inner group which several months ago fanned the flames of Harriman's ambition to now douse them.

Foremost among these ambition fanners are Carmine DeSapio, New York Secretary of State and Tammany leader, and Judge Sam Rosenman, White House assistant and historian of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

DeSapio and Rosenman are political realists and fully aware that Harriman's candidacy is getting nowhere. But they are shying away from telling him that.

Reason for this diffidence is Harriman's explosive touchiness about his late-blooming presidential aspirations. He hotly resents anything savoring of doubts about them, particularly from members of his staff and Administration. Such candor is deemed "disloyal"—so they don't tell him.

Latest blow to the New York Governor is a turnaround from former President Truman.

Overtures were made to him to give Harriman another boost along the line of the one bestowed on him in Albany last fall, which he used to launch his White House hopes. But Truman declined. He sent back word he is keeping hands off the race, as any pronouncement by him would be resented by other candidates.

Truman also indicated he doubts whether even he can help Harriman any more.

GOP Politics—Former Governor Tom Dewey will be main speaker at the Baltimore meeting of the three-score "Salute to Eisenhower" rallies which Republicans will stage throughout the country on January 20, third anniversary of the President's inauguration. Governor McKeldin, who nominated the President at the 1952 convention, and other Maryland leaders asked for Dewey to address the big $100-box lunch gathering they are arranging. Significantly, Dewey will also appear with the President, Vice President Nixon and Treasury Secretary Humphrey on the closed-circuit TV network that will be a feature of these nationwide events. . . . Greater Economy In Autos

—by H. G. Heller

In the 1920s an automotive engineer, famed for his imaginative flights into the future, beguiled his colleagues with predictions: "Sooner than you think, you are going to take the running boards off automobiles and put that saved space to good use as more room inside the car."

Though it always evoked tolerant laughter, the prediction was soundly based on the prophet's understanding of the meaning of certain technological changes then taking place. He was aware that the expanding network of paved highways, then replacing the muddy and rutted trails that had long served as the nation's roads, was making it possible to lower the center of gravity of the automobile, and to get rid of that vestigial descendant of the carriage-step, the running-board. The prophecy was founded, too, on a recognition of how new sheet-steel rolling and forming methods, then emerging from laboratories, would enable designers and engineers to develop safer, more roomy, and more comfortable automobile bodies.

How this prediction came true is one of a number of examples of automobile improvement cited in a recent report of a study of trends in vehicle characteristics over the quarter-century period from 1930 through 1955.

Useful Size Bodies

In that period, the study shows, a marked increase of useful size apparent to the user has been achieved by increasing front and rear seat widths from an average of 47 inches to one of about 63 inches. This has been achieved by lowering the structure and using inside the car the exterior space once needed for running boards.

"This trend has been important in increasing comfort and safety when three people are carried in the front seat," the report's author declares.

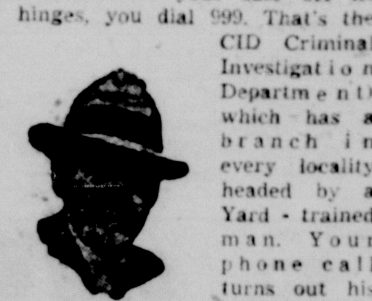

Another trend observed in this study of all the automobiles tested in one company's proving ground in the past 25 years shows that the average weight has increased from about 3600 to 3900 lbs., and that this has been the result of heavy models becoming somewhat lighter and light models becoming heavier. In other words, the difference in weight between light and heavy models is not as great as it was 25 years ago, when minimum weights were as low as 2500 lbs. and maximum was as high as 5500 lbs.

"In England, when you find the door of your safe off its hinges, you dial 999. That's the CID. Criminal Investigation Department."

Investigation in a Department which has a branch in every locality headed by a Yard-trained man. Your phone call turns out his squad cars. No body carries guns in the British cops and robbers fraternity—it just wouldn't be cricket. In a recent Tangiers fracas between British and U. S. smugglers, one New Jersey character exposed a big pistol which was promptly taken away from him by a gentleman in a Savile Row suit who chided him in tones reminiscent of Ronald Colman.

"The modern London criminal has a lawyer, an accountant, an agent, and a clipping service. He also has a business."

"Last year in London, in a one-way side street, a KLM armoured guard was carrying two small crates of bullion worth $10,000 ($112,000). Suddenly, he didn't have it. Several cars and trucks just happened to be stalled, cluttering the tiny street and paralyzing traffic. Nobody ever did know exactly what happened."

"The drama critic of British crime is Percy Hoskins of the Express. He had been predicting for weeks in polished prose that a big job was in the making."

There had been an epidemic of jail breaks and certain specialists were on the street.

"Now there was a run on papers as London's seven big dailies featured the 'thief across eight columns. In the West End pubs and clubs where the thespians who play cops and robbers mingle with the cops and robbers themselves, there was a buzz of conjecture. Top inspectors and even superintendents showed up within minutes at the Star Tavern, the Maisonneuve Club, Les Ambassadeurs, and other hangouts, for a polite census of the opposition team."

"Eddie Chapman has a business. He manufactures cowboy boots for children. He also has 46 convictions for safecracking and other offenses, all of which were erased from his record for his bravery as a counterspy during the war. So presently, he is receiving his old friends, Inspector Griffith and staff in his Kensington flat. While he poured drinks and chatted about the dog races at White City, a police technician painted his wall fixtures and drew knobs with acid, looking for gold that might have been disguised as ornaments."

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The mind is sometimes like an alpaca coat on a hike—the big sweep of hill and valley leave no impression at all but it certainly does pick up the burrs.

And one burr that's been sticking in mine ever since I read it is: "The guild members will make covers for the camels." Somehow I stopped right there in my thinking. If I'd gone on there was a logical explanation—the camels are the ones used in the Christmas pageant.

But that still doesn't solve everything. What kind of covers do you make for camels? Dust covers just to keep them clean between Christmas? Or maybe by covers they mean those elaborate embroidered covers with holes for the humps?

Or maybe they're actually going to cover the camels. "With camels hair, what else?" was one helpful suggestion from a fellow reporter. Of course, it would only take a telephone call to find out, but the explanation is probably so sensible that it's more fun to speculate.

And probably there were once sensible reasons, well logical, anyway, why people tie old shoes to wedding cars, why people kiss under the mistletoe and why the Easter rabbit, alone among the lagomorphs of the Leporidae family, lays eggs.

But maybe if we knew, it wouldn't be so exciting.

Refreshing Salad For Friday Fare

A fruit salad makes a refreshing contrast served after fish. A particularly good one is apple-grapefruit salad to be served with creamed salmon on toast, cookies and a beverage for a Friday lunch. The directions are as follows:

Apple-grapefruit salad. Ingredients: 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 2 teaspoons prepared Bahama type mustard, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon sugar, 1 large grapefruit, 1 medium-sized or large red Delicious apple, lettuce or other greens, paprika.

Method: Mix mayonnaise, mustard, lemon juice and sugar together. Peel grapefruit so no white membrane remains; cut grapefruit sections away from dividing membrane. Cut apple in quarters and remove core; do not peel. Cut each apple quarter into 3 or 4 lengthwise slices. Arrange lettuce on 3 salad plates; alternate grapefruit and apple sections over lettuce; top with dressing and paprika. Makes 3 large servings.

Storage Tips For Cheeses

University Park, Pa. (AP) — Edam, blue cheddar or any other kind of cheese demands careful storage and preparation for use, says Marjorie J. Wormeck, extension nutritionist at Pennsylvania State University. A heavy wax paper or foil is excellent protection for cheese in storage or a covered dish will do, she says.

Cheese tastes and keeps better when stored in the refrigerator. Cook all kinds of cheese at low temperatures because, she cautions, like any protein foods, they toughen with high heat.

RILEY

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

IT WAS LIKE old home week recently when Valley Stream High's freshman basketball squad scored a 55-52 victory over Ocean-side High. True, the contest was played on Long Island, but two Monroe County natives were very much a part of the program. Walt Stern, former basketball coach at East Stroudsburg High, was the Valley Stream coach, while Dick Plante was one of the officials. Plante played a lot of shortstop for both Dingmans Ferry and Bushkill in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League.

Stern is now a teacher and coach at Valley Stream High, while Plante is stationed with the Air Corps at Mitchell Field. The two former Monroe County residents had a lengthy discussion on the relative merits of sports on Long Island and in this area. Plante's baseball career was halted by two broken ankles. The reunion of the former area residents took place on the Ocean-side High court.

Wally Adelmann, past three letter athlete at Stroudsburg High, is treasurer of the freshman class at Pennsylvania Military College. Wally played tackle on the PMC varsity football squad last autumn. Dave Nevil, another former three letter winner at Stroudsburg High, is the number seven man on the Lehigh freshman basketball squad. Adelmann and Nevil played on the same football, basketball and baseball teams at Stroudsburg.

Ken Cox, former heavyweight wrestler at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, is doing alright for himself in the same sport in the Army. Cox is currently stationed at Fort Ord, California. Ken, a native of Bethlehem, recently won the Pacific AAU Greco-Roman heavyweight championship by pinning three out of four opponents. The action took place at the San Francisco Olympic Club last month. Cox also won the Pacific NAAU crown at San Jose State College last month.

The latter title became a reality when Ken pinned three of five opponents in the Olympic style heavyweight class. Cox defeated 220-pound Don Hunt, of San Jose State, for the championship. Speaking of wrestling brings to mind the fact that Lock Haven State Teachers College has 12 let-terms returning from last year's squad, although there are only eight events in an official match. Lock Haven, loser to the University of Pittsburgh and Wayneburg last season, will face ESSTC again this year. Lock Haven walloped Purdue last winter.

Dick James was officially transferred from Gray's Chevrolet to the roster of the Stroudsburg Poconos on Wednesday of this week only a couple hours before the opening of the Pocono Mountains League basketball season. Bangor High School's varsity basketball squad witnessed Lafayette's thrilling 70-67 victory over Moravian on Wednesday. East Stroudsburg's films of the Thanksgiving Day football game were shown at Tuesday's meeting of the Industrial Management Club at the Penn-Stroud Club.

Jack Kist, football and baseball coach at East Stroudsburg High, will officiate the Parkland-Hellertown basketball game tonight. The other official in the Lehigh-Northampton League struggle will be Ed Christman, former assistant grid mentor at Nazareth High. Parkland and Fountain Hill are currently tied for first place in the circuit with records of three wins and no defeats. Second place East Stroudsburg, with two wins and no setbacks, will invade Fountain Hill in the top game of the day.

Ben Miller, former three-letter athlete at Stroudsburg High, is currently playing on a company basketball team in the Air Corps. Any officials who haven't collected their money for working games in the recent Christmas Basketball Tournament may complete this little task by dropping in at the YMCA at anytime and contacting Bill McDonnell, athletic director. Jim Lemon, who once played baseball at Gordon Heights Field, is currently leading the Mexican Coast League in homers with 17.

Jack Baldwin, well known in area sports circles, recently vacationed at Pinchburg, N.C. and took in one of the nation's major Christmas tournaments in Raleigh. Jack also spent plenty of time on the golf course. Jim Barnhardt, once an ESSTC student and pitcher for Bangor, of the now defunct class "D" North Atlantic League, will pitch for Shreveport, of the "AA" Texas League next baseball season. He hauled for Portsmouth, Va., of the class "B" Piedmont League, last summer.

East Stroudsburg Risks Mark Against Fountain Hill

Beers To Miss Major League Battle

EAST Stroudsburg High plays its most important basketball game thus far in the current campaign today when the Cavaliers go to battle with Fountain Hill in a Lehigh-Northampton League outing on the Fountain Hill boards. It will be the first meeting of the two circuit rivals this season.

Junior varsity activity is on the agenda for 6:30 p. m., while the important varsity contest is tabbed for 8 p. m.

Fountain Hill is currently deadlocked for first place in the flag race with Parkland, each team sporting records of three wins and no setbacks.

East Stroudsburg, under the guidance of Coach Dick Forster, is holding down second place in the standings at the present time with a mark of two favorable verdicts and no defeats.

Forster announced yesterday that the Cavaliers would go to the post tonight minus King Beers, high scoring forward who has been nursing a back injury. Beers suffered the damage in a bad spill during a recent practice session. Beers submitted to X-rays yesterday and if he plays at all tonight it will be on a limited basis.

Starters Forster has nominated Bob Notz, a junior, to replace Beers at an forward post, while Co-Captain Dan Marvin will operate on the opposite side of the court from Notz. Jim Kimler is listed as the starting center, while Co-Captain Dick Gray and Dale Metzgar, who has fought his way into a starting position, man the opening guard berths.

Elwood "Woody" Mosteller, Harry Miller and Les Bernbaum are other Cavaliers virtually certain of seeing action in the contest. Fountain Hill and Parkland were pre-season selections to land the circuit championship this season, but East Stroudsburg is currently the surprise team of the league at this early date.

The Cavaliers own an overall mark of five wins and one defeat. They have taken the measure of Stroudsburg, Alumni, Wilson Borough, Coplay and Phillipsburg. The lone setback was a 48-30 affair inflicted by Northampton in the opening game of the recent Lehigh Valley League Invitation Tournament held at Slatington's Smith Hall.

Fountain Hill, showing strength both in and out of the league this season, is coached by Charley Dobbs, a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

BANGOR—Easton opened with an 11-0 lead and then coasted to a 79-40 victory over Bangor High in a girls' basketball game played here on the latter's home court yesterday afternoon.

Pat Fisher tallied nine of Easton's first 11 points and finished the game with 34 markers. Kay Hughes and Barbara Holland topped the losing offense with 13 and 12 markers respectively.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—The Boxing Guild of New York today denied a ban leveled at it by the New York State Athletic Commission and voted unanimously not to dissolve its membership as ordered by Commission Chairman Julius Helfand. Helfand outlawed the guild Dec. 12 and ordered managers to sever their guild membership by Jan. 16 or lose their licenses in the state of New York. Charlie Johnston, president of the parent International Boxing Guild, was present at tonight's meeting of the New York group and said: "We've done nothing wrong. We're ready to fight in New York right now. If he (Helfand) takes our licenses away, we have to go out of town. "We'll go anywhere we can get

Stroudsburg Plays Host To Slatington Cagers

STROUDSBURG High will attempt to even its Lehigh Valley League basketball record at one win and a single setback today when the Mountaineers play host to Slatington on the W. Main St. court. This is the second of three straight home games listed for the Mountaineers.

Today's junior varsity contest is slated for 6:45 p. m., while the two varsity machines match ability at approximately 8:15 p. m.

Coach John Kupiec announced last night that he was entirely undecided about his starting lineup following two brisk workouts.

It was virtually certain that Doug Shook and Tom Savidge would be in the starting array, but the other choices would be in doubt right up until game time.

Doug Nichols made a big impression in last night's practice, while Bob Adelmann, Ron "Super" Phillips, Don Hickey, Don

"Lokie" Setzer, Jim Welsh and Al Driebe are all figuring in the first team picture.

Kupiec was pleased with last night's practice, even though several of his pupils are hampered with colds at the present time.

Stroudsburg dropped its opening league game to Whitehall, 70-59, on Tuesday of this week. It was the fourth loss in six games for the W. Main St. cagers to date.

The Mountaineers have beaten Bangor and Carbondale, while bowing to East Stroudsburg, Scranton Central, Scranton Tech and Whitehall.

Slatington is expected to present a club built on speed and a man-to-man defense. The Slaters finished third in the recent Lehigh Valley League Invitation Tournament at Smith Hall.

Kupiec is hopeful of earning his first victory over Slatington

Pocono Risks Standing At Chestnuthill

PAST AND PRESENT will collide today as the Monroe County League moves into its initial basketball venture of 1956.

Chestnuthill, defending champion, will play host to Pocono, the club currently leading the pack with three victories and no defeats.

Today's host has won only one of three contests against league foes and is currently in the battle for runner-up honors.

Coolbaugh, now the number two quintet in the standings with three wins and one loss, will be at home with Polk. Polk has a mark of two victories and one setback.

Number Three Barrett, with one win and two setbacks, will battle Tobyhanna Township, loser of all four outings to date, on the former's home hardwood in Canadensis.

In each case the junior varsity warfare is listed for 7:15 p. m. and the main events for approximately one hour later.

Today's activity is the first for the circuit since Tuesday, December 20. Each team plays the opposition three times before the campaign comes to an end on Tuesday, February 14.

Gray's Five Nips Rudy's In Stretch

KRESGEVILLE — Gray's Chevrolet made its first appearance in the Pocono Mountains Basketball League for 1956 a winning one last night with a 73-10 decision over Rudy's Tavern in the first half of a doubleheader here at Polk High School.

The ultimate winner was forced to break a 68-68 deadlock in the fading moments of the ball game to gain the favorable verdict.

A field goal by Dick Pennington and a three-point play by Ray Steele saved the day for the Tannersville contingent.

Gray's club came from behind in the early moments of the ball game and maintained the upper hand until Rudy's quintet put on a strong finish in the final quarter.

The Garagemen held a slim 15-13 edge at the end of the opening quarter, but stretched the lead to 37-31 at halftime.

Gray's added three more points to its lead with a 19-16 edge in the third quarter and then fought off Rudy's bid during the last 10 minutes although outscored, 23-17.

Steele's work on the boards, the offensive bursts of Bill Metzgar and the defensive play of Tom Phillips saved the day for Gray's squad.

Metzgar and Steele each had 16 points in a winning cause and Pennington and Jim Frailey chipped in with 15 each. Guido "Geetz" DiTarice ran up 16 markers for the Tavern.

Gray's made good on 15 of 31 foul shots, while Rudy's club hit on 18 of 29 attempts from the foul line.

'Babe' Departs From Hospital

GALVESTON, Tex., Jan. 5 (AP)—Mildred (Babe) Zaharias left the hospital today for the first time since she re-entered it Dec. 28 with pneumonia and went for a half hour car ride with her husband, George.

The great woman golfer became ill while visiting Fort Worth friends, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bowen, during the holidays and was rushed back to John Sealy Hospital. She had been under X-ray treatment there since late in November for pains that persisted since her second battle with cancer.

Fort Wayne, Celtics Triumph

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—The Boston Celtics, beaten by New York the last two nights, bounced back to whip the Knickerbockers 92-87 and retain second place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association.

In the opener of the doubleheader at Madison Square Garden, the Fort Wayne Pistons built up a 19-point half time lead and then went on to defeat the Philadelphia Warriors 92-81.

None of us is resigning." Fifty-four of the 69 members of the New York Guild were present at the special meeting.

Twelve others telephoned their decision to the meeting. There was no mention of the other three members, but the decision was described by Guild leaders as unanimous.

Cus D'Amato, acting president of the New York Guild in the absence of Max Waxman, who is ill and inactive, issued a prepared statement which said the decision to defy Helfand's ban had "the full support of the other 16 guilds" in the IBG.

Earlier Helfand blasted a Baltimore boxing promoter as "Frankie Carbo's representative" and said he would investigate to determine if the St. Nicholas promoters are associating with crim-

Dinermen Launch Campaign With Nod Over Kresgeville

KRESGEVILLE — Al Besecker's Diner crowned its initial venture in the Pocono Mountains Basketball League with success last night by scoring a 65-60 decision over Kresgeville, here on the Polk High School court. The game was played as the second portion of a doubleheader.

The Dinermen held the upper hand throughout the game, but were forced to battle off a determined Kresgeville club in the final 10 minutes of action.

Kresgeville had narrowed its deficit from 18 to three points before Besecker's squad led the verdict in the final moments.

The Dinermen held 18-13 at the end of the first quarter and 37-21 at halftime. Kresgeville went on to hold a 16-13 advantage in the third stanza and a 23-15 bulge in the last quarter before Besecker's crew made the victory official.

Jim Werkheiser, Clair Bloss and Harry Warner paced the winning offense with 16, 11 and 10 markers respectively. Harold Kresge's 21 points were tops in the game, but failed to swing the verdict in favor of the home team.

Kresgeville made good on 10 of 23 foul shots, while the Dinermen converted nine of 14 free throws.

Northwestern Adds To Staff

EVANSTON, Ill., Jan. 5 (AP)—New Northwestern football coach, Ara Parshegian, today named a third member of his former Miami of Ohio staff, Paul Shouls, 29, as a wideback assistant coach.

Previously, Parshegian signed Dick Ulrich and Bruce Beatty as his end and tackle coaches respectively at Northwester. Shouls will coach the backfield.

Benny Trotta whose real name is Benny Magliano met in the city of Baltimore to engineer the deal.

The former racket-buster bristled as he said he would not be intimidated or smeared. "I intend to find out if Willie Gilzenberg and Tex Sullivan (boxing director and promoter of the London Sporting Club which has promoted boxing at St. Nick's in New York for 86 consecutive Mondays) have been in violation of the law forbidding association with known criminals such as Magliano and his partner, Angelo Munaro, and through them with the boss of both, Mr. Carbo. If the facts indicate, the commission will take disciplinary action, looking to a revocation of their licenses."

Berg Selected Top Woman Athlete

CHICAGO, Jan. 5 (AP)—Golfer Patty Berg, 37, today named woman athlete of the year for 1955, calls herself a "meat and potatoes" player.

"By that I mean that last year I was hitting the greens in regulation," said the redhead who won six major tournaments. "That's the meat and potatoes of golf—the key to the game."

"Every winter down at my home in Fort Myers (Fla.) I give my game a complete self analysis," she told a reporter. "A year ago, I decided that my drives and long irons could stand some improvement. So I concentrated on that phase in practices. This winter I'm going in for chipping and putting."

Tough Start "But I didn't start out 1955 any too well," continued the little veteran of 22 years of competitive golf. "At Jacksonville I was plenty wild all over the course and after the first round was 13th in the field."

"Then I got a long distance phone call from my stepmother and dad. I told them I didn't know what I was doing wrong but it was something. You know what they did? They began studying pictures they had taken of me playing three weeks previously."

"They called me back and said that those pictures revealed that there was a flaw in my stance—something I unwittingly had been doing. Well, I went out, got my stance back in order and finished second in the tourney. That's what I call remote control coaching."

It is the third time Patty has been voted woman athlete of the year by the nation's sports writers and broadcasters. She won the honor in 1938 and again in 1943, two years after shattering her knee cap in an auto accident and spending 18 months in a hospital.

Association To Build Backstop

A BACKSTOP for a proposed baseball field at Memorial Stadium will be constructed by the East Stroudsburg Athletic Association, it was decided at Wednesday's meeting of the organization in the high school building.

Other topics of minor business, including finances, were also brought before the gathering at the first meeting of 1956.

Keat Nears Court Record At Bangor

BANGOR — Don Keat, Bangor High's brilliant forward, will undoubtedly set a school record today when the Slaters tangle with Phillipsburg High in an exhibition contest on the latter's home court.

Junior varsity action is set for 6:30 p. m. and the varsity contest at approximately 8 p. m.

Keat needs only one field goal or two foul shots to eclipse the varsity career scoring record now held by Joe Heard, brother of Bangor coach John Heard.

Figures Joe Heard, now a member of the Moravian squad, scored 597 points in a three-year varsity career covering 55 games. He tallied 119 as a sophomore, 204 as a junior and 274 during his senior year.

Keat has 506 points to his credit in a varsity career covering 48 games and now in his third year. The polished forward notched 80 as a sophomore and set a school record for one season last year with 350. He has tallied 166 in six games thus far this season.

Keat already owns the school mark for points scored both in junior varsity and varsity careers with 904 in 68 games. Don tallied 228 as freshman. The old mark was 791 held by Gary Wynn in 79 games. Keat scored 430 points in his first two varsity campaigns. Heard is hopeful of using most of his squad today, but the starting array will feature a new look. Jim Freeman will flank Keat at the forward spots, while Jim Warwick returns to center. Gary Strauss and "Jabby" Williams will start the game at the guard posts.

Freeman Sets Hot Pace In Basketball Scoring Derby

By The Associated Press

OHIO STATE'S Robin Freeman, who was out in front of Furman's Darrell Floyd in the major college basketball scoring race at the end of 1954, came to the end of 1955 in the same position.

NCAA Service Bureau statistics through games of Dec. 31 show Freeman on top for the fourth straight week with an average of 33.5 points a game and Floyd second with 31.4. They held the same positions a year before, but at the season's end Floyd was champion and Freeman finished third. They're the only repeaters in the top 10.

Team Edge

Morehead State of Kentucky held the team scoring lead for the third straight week with a 99.6 points per game average while San Francisco, the NCAA champions, returned to the top in defense, allowing an average of 51.9 points per game.

The game will be played at the Rochester War Memorial Auditorium on Tuesday, Jan. 24. Since the All-Star game was inaugurated in Boston five years ago, the West has won four games and the East one.

Almost

Paul Arizin of the Philadelphia Warriors and Adolph Schayes of the Syracuse Nationals missed out on only one individual ballot in the voting. Three newcomers on the two squads are Maurice Stokes of Rochester on the West team and Bob Harrison, St. Louis, and Jack George, Philadelphia, on the East.

Voting requirements were that at least one man from every team in the league and no more than three from any team should be on the squads. Each league city was accorded one full vote on the basis of the individual ballots.

Fort Wayne's Charley Eckman will coach the West team and Philadelphia's George Senesky the East.

Monday Set For Work At Fairgrounds

NEWFOUNDLAND — Another "frolic" for the purpose of restoring the property of the Greene-Dreher Fair has been called for Monday by Carroll Fetherman, association president.

Work is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m., Fetherman said, and will consist of raising and skidding the "poultry house" back on its foundation. The building, a 26x50-foot structure, was dragged to its original site last week after having been floated 300 yards north in the Aug. 18 flood.

Volunteer workers are requested to contact Fetherman at Newfoundland 8476 to inform him of how much time they can contribute. All equipment needed has been secured, the president said.

Farm Owners Reminded Of S. S. Deadline

MANY OPERATORS of farms have a social security responsibility to meet for the first time this month. These are employers of farm labor who heretofore have not been required to report wages paid to hired help or pay social security taxes on those wages because their employees did not meet the regularity-of-work test which applied to farm labor before 1955.

The 1954 changes in the social security law did away with that test and substituted another one whereby the work of most farm employees started to count toward old age and survivors insurance protection beginning with Jan. 1, 1955. Any farm operator who paid $100 or more cash wages to an agricultural employee in 1955 is required to report all cash wages in the year and pay the social security tax on or before Jan. 31, 1956.

The social security tax on agricultural employees' wages is 4 percent. If a self-employed farmer had more than one agricultural employee in 1955, the $100 cash wages test applies separately to each of them. The law provides for the employers sharing of the social security tax with his employee.

He may have taken the employee's share (2 percent) out of his wages each time he paid him during 1955. Or he may have waited until the cash wages paid to the employee totaled $100. Or he may have failed to deduct any amount at all from his cash wages. In any event, the social security tax must be paid. This is the farm operator's responsibility and he must meet it on or before the last day of January.

For reporting wages paid to farm employees and paying the social security tax, farm operators should use Form 943, "Employer's tax and Information Return for Agricultural Employees." A copy of this form may be obtained from any Internal Revenue Service district office.

U. S. T Place Nike Rockets In Europe

HEIDELBERG, Germany Jan. 5 (AP)—The United States Army plans to install its Nike super-sonic anti-aircraft guided missiles in Western Europe, it was announced today.

Army headquarters here said survey of sites for the radar-controlled weapons would begin immediately. The announcement described the plan as "a significant step strengthening the over-all European air defense system."

The Nike rockets "intercept and destroy enemy air targets regardless of evasive action," the Army said.

Nike units are stationed around American cities and strategic targets but have not been sent overseas. The Nike, a large rocket, is named after the Greek goddess of victory. The Army claims it has proved highly effective against modern jet aircraft in tests in the United States.

Stock Market Falters After Initial Gains

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—An early promise of a general advance in the stock market today faded away by the close.

Only slight headway was maintained at the finish of trading with prices spread over a range of around 3 points higher to 2 points lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed unchanged at $178.50. It was off 80 cents yesterday and 90 cents the previous day. The industrial component was up 20 cents while railroads declined 50 cents and utilities advanced 30 cents.

The list was composed of 1,179 individual issues of which 572 advanced and 366 declined with 14 new highs and 8 new lows for 1955-56 reached. The margin of plus signs was a good representation of the degree of advance in the market.

GM, NYC Active

Volume stepped down to 2,110,000 shares as compared with 2,290,000 shares yesterday.

General Motors occupied its usual position at the top of the most active list of 34 at 44½. It was down ¼ yesterday.

Next came New York Central off 1½ at 44½, Phillips Petroleum up 2½ at 85½ and RKO Theatres up ¼ at 11½.

Advancing were Hiram Walker up 2, Houston Oil 6½, American Telephone ¼, Kennecott Copper 2½, Bethlehem Steel ¼, Republic Steel ¼, Chrysler ¼, and United Aircraft ¼.

Lower were Radio Corp. ¼, Allied Chemical 1, Union Carbide 1½, Libby McNeil ¼, Paramount Pictures ½, Standard Oil (NJ) 1, and Southern Railway 2.

The American Stock Exchange and corporate bonds were higher.

John V. Deuel

John V. Deuel To Address County PSEA

MONROE County Branch of the Pennsylvania State Education Association will hold its next meeting at East Stroudsburg Junior High School at 8 p.m. Monday.

The guest speaker will be John V. Deuel, author-scientist-explorer, whose topic will be "South America, the New World Colossus." Deuel served as senior pilot and liaison officer with the Air Force in World War Two.

Deuel grew up with aviation in America. He was staff pilot under the late Gen. "Billy" Mitchell, pioneer air-strength advocate. The speaker has spent eight years doing scientific research with expeditions to remote parts of the world.

U. S. government issues traded over the counter were higher.

Leo Durocher To Emcee His First 'Comedy Hour' Sunday

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 5 (AP)—Leo Durocher, figuring that Ed Sullivan can't be any tougher than Casey Stengel, goes before the cameras next Sunday as the star of an expensive variety show.

The former New York Giants manager, hired by NBC as a $50,000-a-year executive, switches to performer to act as master of ceremonies of the "Comedy Hour"—a new series replacing the "Variety Hour" which rival CBS' Ed Sullivan knocked off the air in a battle of ratings. The two shows are on at the same hour.

"This game pays better than baseball," Durocher told an interviewer, "only the hours aren't as good."

And he admits he has doubts about his future.

Signs For Three

NBC wanted to sign him for 14 shows. Durocher would sign only for three.

"We'll see how it goes," he said. "If they yank me after three—or I want to yank myself—then we're not tied down with contracts."

He plans some innovations. "There will be guys hawking popcorn and peanuts in the aisle and all members of the orchestra will wear numbers on their backs."

He declined to disclose how much the new job pays, but said his salary will be in addition to his executive pay.

As for the hours in show business, he remarked:

Less Time for Golf

"I used to play golf for two months in the winter. This winter I have played six times—and I can't see when I'll get out again now."
